++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Becoming drier for most, except for over higher ground.

This Evening and Tonight:

Becoming drier overnight as showers ease through the early evening, however some showery rain and low cloud remains likely over hills and coasts. Largely cloudy, with only occasional breaks, and remaining quite muggy. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Saturday:

After another cloudy start, it will be a largely dry day with sunny spells developing more widely into the afternoon; these accompanied by the odd isolated shower, especially further north. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Dry with sunny spells to start Sunday before heavy rain arrives from the southwest later; this lingers through Monday morning before largely clearing into the afternoon. Sunshine and showers Tuesday.
